DevTools in Chrome

The screenshot illustrates the use of DevTools in Google Chrome to inspect a web page. The page itself features three identical 'Headline' sections. The first section includes a background image of a building with a bird. The subsequent sections have plain white backgrounds. The DevTools interface is overlaid on the right side of the browser window, specifically the Elements and Styles panels.

Elements Tab: Shows the DOM tree. A red arrow points to the magnifying glass icon in the tab bar, which is used for search functionality. The tree shows the structure: <!DOCTYPE html> <html lang="en"> <body> ... </body> </html>. Scripts listed include jquery-2.1.4.min.js, bootstrap.min.js, and script.js.

Styles Tab: Shows the CSS styles applied to the body element. It lists properties like font-family, font-size, line-height, color, background-color, margin, border, padding, and box-sizing. The padding value is explicitly shown as 619 x 994. The 'bootstrap.min.css:5' file is referenced for most styles.
